

SECOND HARVEST FOOD BANK OF ORANGE COUNTY RECEIVES GRANT FROM MAZDA FOUNDATION

Irvine, CA — September 16, 2015 — Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County and the Mazda Foundation today announced a $500,000 grant by the Foundation which will be used to fund Second Harvest programs targeting hungry children and seniors in the community. The grant, which will be dispersed over a three year period, will provide the equivalent of nearly 500,000 meals each year for a total of 1.5 million meals for the hungry.

One in five children in Orange County will go hungry at some point during the month and their health and learning can be negatively impacted. Second Harvest Food Bank's Child Hunger Strategy, which includes its Kids Cafe and School Pantry Programs, provides nutritious food to children and their families in underserved neighborhoods. The Mazda Foundation grant will enable Second Harvest to make sure that more at-risk children and their families are well-fed and well-nourished.

For the 45 percent of seniors in the county who are unable to afford basic necessities, the Mazda Foundation grant will allow Second Harvest to provide them with healthy groceries twice a month so they aren't forced to choose between buying food and paying rent or buying medications

"This generous grant from the Mazda Foundation will greatly increase our ability to provide more nutritious meals to children and seniors so they and their families can stop worrying about where their next meal will come from," said Nicole Suydam, Second Harvest CEO. "Mazda has been a wonderful partner and we are very grateful for their support through this grant and for the hundreds of hours of volunteer service donated by their employees."

In recognition of this significant contribution, Second Harvest had renamed its Volunteer Center the Mazda Foundation Volunteer Center. More than 18,000 volunteers will come through the center this year to help Second Harvest achieve its mission to end hunger in Orange County.

Robert Davis, President of the Mazda Foundation (USA), Inc., said, "Giving back to our communities is at the core of what we do at Mazda and the Mazda Foundation. Supporting Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County is one of the most important programs in our immediate community. Ensuring that our kids, seniors and families don't go to sleep hungry is such an important mission and we are proud to be a partner with Second Harvest."
